POL 372—Contemporary Spanish Politics
Spring 2009

Dr. Maritheresa Frain (mfrain@ciece.org)
Office Hours: by appointment

OBJECTIVES

This class will introduce students to the important historical, political, social, and economic aspects of contemporary Spanish politics. The first part of the class will examine the legacy of the Franco regime and the transition to democracy in Spain after 1975. The second part of the class will study the new political, social and economic institutions of the democratic regime. The last part of the class will focus on Spanish foreign policy in an era of globalization.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

1. Attendance and participation: Students are expected to attend all classes. If there is justifiable excuse for missing class, this information must be provided to the proper authorities as required. Active participation in class discussions is required.
2. Timely Arrival: Students should plan to arrive to class on time. If the door is closed, please do not enter the classroom. Late arrivals count as absences according to the UPO's policy.
3. Readings: Students are expected to complete all required readings before coming to class.
4. Midterm Exam: This will be taken in class, essay question style.
5. Essay: Students will select a contemporary topic of interest to write a 10 page double-spaced typed paper related to politics and society in contemporary Spain. The topic is due for approval by the fourth week of the class. Specifics will be provided in class.
6. Final Exam: This will be taken in class during the final exam period.
7. Academic Honesty: Students are expected to act in accordance with the University's standards of conduct concerning plagiarism and academic dishonesty.
8. Newspapers/Magazines: All students should read a daily newspaper, preferably one in Spanish if possible and one from the United States. It is highly suggested that everyone begin to read THE ECONOMIST on a weekly basis. Copies of THE ECONOMIST may be found in the Centro de Estudios para Extranjeros office at the UPO. Here are some links which might be useful: www.elmundo.es; www.abc.es; www.elpais.es; www.economist.com;
