continued from front cover

Book Reviews

Philipp Dann, The Law of Development Cooperation: A Comparative Analysis of the World Bank, the EU and Germany

Ville Kari

Jan Klabbers

Patrick Weller and Xu Yi-chong (eds.), The Politics of International Organizations: Views from Insiders

Diliana Stoyanova

Jan Klabbers, Advanced Introduction to the Law of International Organizations

Kristina Daugirdas

Editorial

You Can Check out Any Time You Like, but Can You Really Leave? On ‘Brexit’ And Leaving International Organizations

Ramses A. Wessel

Articles

NATO, International Organizations and Functional Immunity

Daniël M. Grütters

Procedural Fairness as a Precondition for Immunity of International Organizations

Yaraslav Kryvoi

The Association of Southeast Asian Nations: International Legal Personality and its Treaty-Making Power

Hao Duy Phan

The Institutionalization of a Process: The Development of the Kimberley Process towards an International Organization

Gloria Fernández Arribas

The Relevance of Disciplinary Authority and Criminal Jurisdiction to Locating Effective Control under the ARIO

Zsuzsanna Deen-Racsmány

continued on back cover
After the Second World War in particular, the law of international organizations developed as a discipline within public international law. Separate, but not separable, The International Organizations Law Review purports to function as a discussion forum for academics and practitioners active in the field of the law of international organizations. It is based on two pillars; one is based in the world of scholarship, the other in the world of practice. In the first dimension, the Journal focuses on general developments in international institutional law. Its main interest lies in general, theoretical, issues rather than in the law of specific organizations. Contributions may deal with individual organizations, but the relevance of the subject to other international organizations or to the discipline of the law of international organizations must be clear. Most contributions will therefore focus on institutional rather than on substantive issues. Equally important, however, are the views from practice. The world of scholars and the world of practitioners largely function in separate settings. One is not always fully aware of developments taking place in the other. The Review aims to bridge this separation by creating a forum to identify and discuss legal developments within the field of international organizations as observed by practitioners working for those organizations next to theoretical analyses of international institutional law. Both dimensions are to support and stimulate each other.

Abstracting & Indexing

Subscription Rates

Please check the journal homepage at brill.com/iolr. All prices are exclusive of VAT (not applicable outside the EU) but inclusive of shipping & handling. Subscriptions to this journal are accepted for complete volumes only and take effect with the first issue of the volume.

Claims
Claims for missing issues will be met, free of charge, if made within three months of dispatch for European customers and five months for customers outside of Europe.

Subscription Orders, Payments, Claims and Customer Service
Brill, c/o Turpin Distribution, Stratton Business Park, Pegasus Drive, Biggleswade, Bedfordshire SG18 9TQ, United Kingdom, tel +44 (0)1767 604954, fax +44 (0)1767 601640, e-mail brill@turpin-distribution.com

Back volumes – Brill Nijhoff
For back volumes or issues older than 2 years, please contact William S. Hein & Co., Inc., 1285 Main Street, Buffalo, NY 14209, USA.
E-mail orders@wshein.com or visit William S. Hein’s website www.wshein.com
Or Periodicals Service Company (PSC), u Main Street, Germantown, NY 12526, USA.
E-mail psc@periodicals.com or visit PSC’s website www.periodicals.com

Copyright 2022 by Koninklijke Brill NV, Leiden, The Netherlands.
Koninklijke Brill NV incorporates the imprints Brill, Brill Heu & De Graaf, Brill Nijhoff, Brill Rodopi and Hotei Publishing. All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, translated, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without prior written permission of the publisher.

Authorization to photocopy items for internal personal use is granted by the publisher provided that the appropriate fees are paid directly to the Copyright Clearance Center, 222 Rosewood Drive, Suite 910, Danvers, MA 01923, USA. Fees are subject to change.

This journal is printed on acid-free paper and produced in a sustainable manner.
Visit our website at brill.com