Biosketch

Francisco Lorenzo is a tenured lecturer at the Department of Philology and Translation at Universidad Pablo de Olavide (Seville) and has been a visiting scholar at the Department of Linguistics (Harvard University), Institute of Education (University of London) and Centre for Applied Language Studies (University of Jyväskyla, Finland), where he has lectured and has been engaged in research. He has also been invited to participate in lectures and on courses by Instituto Cervantes, Goethe Institute, Alliance Française and other international institutions.

His research work has focused on the study of second language acquisition and bilingualism, sociolinguistics and sociology of language and European language policies. On these issues he did research which was published in Applied Linguistics, European Journal of Language Policy, Language Learning Journal, Language and Education or International Journal of Bilingual Education and Bilingualism. Lorenzo is also the author of several monographs: Motivación y Segundas Lenguas (Arcolibro, 2006), Educación Bilingüe (Síntesis, 2011) (with J.M. Vez y F. Trujillo) and Competencia Comunicativa en Español L2 (Edinumen, 2004) (with S. Ruhstaller), and a number of book chapters for international publishers.

As a PhD director, he has supervised research on different research topics: CLIL programs in Europe (Dr. Fabrizio Maggi), European language policies on non lingua francas (Dr. América Pérez) and oral competence in educational bilingual programs (Dr. Pat Moore). Currently, his research centers around complex syntax in L1 and L2 and historical biliteracy.

He was the director on a number of masters programmes at his home institution: Máster de Enseñanza de Español ELE, Master de Enseñanza Bilingüe and Máster de Formación del Profesorado de Secundaria, Formación Profesional y Enseñanza de Idiomas. As a senior researcher, he has contributed to projects funded by the European Language Council, the Spanish Ministry of Education and Junta de Andalucía. From 2012 to 2014 he was a member of the board of the Spanish Association of Applied Linguistics. While serving in this position, he directed the XXXII International AESLA Conference Language Industries and Social Change.

For over a decade was the Director of the Language Institute (Servicio de Idiomas) in his home institution.
