Course Description

This class focuses on the role of the three main monotheistic religions in Spanish history, from Antiquity to Modern-Day Spain. Discussion will focus on the role of Catholicism and other religions in a Democratic Spain, in interaction with the growing population of Muslim immigrants, Jewish communities, and the establishment of Churches of various denominations around the country.

Course Goals and Methodology

Students will come prepared to class, after working with the assigned pages from the readings, primary sources, key questions, and other material supplied by the instructor. The course will include classroom sessions and excursions to sites related to the material covered, in Seville and out of town.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of the course, students should be able to understand the cultural and historical meaning of religion(s) within the Spanish historical context; as well to interpret religious traditions by examining religion(s) as historical, social, and cultural phenomena. Furthermore, each student should be able to understand and interpret the subjective dimensions of religion(s) through analyses that explore the psychological, philosophical, and cognitive dynamics of religion and religious experience. And finally, to recognize the historical evolution and influence of religion and religions in today's world.

Required Texts

Selection of readings available in Blackboard.

- Álvarez Junco, J. and A. Schubert (eds.). Spanish History Since 1808. Hodder Arnold, 2000.
Barton, S. A History of Spain. Palgrave Macmillan, 2004.
Constable, O. R. (ed.). Medieval Iberia. Readings from Christian, Muslim, and Jewish Sources. University of Pennsylvania Press, 1997.
Cowans, J. (ed.). Early Modern Spain. A Documentary History. University of Pennsylvania Press, 2003.
Cowans, J. (ed.). Modern Spain. A Documentary History. University of Pennsylvania Press, 2003.
Fletcher, R. Moorish Spain. University of California Press, 2006.
Phillips, W. D. and Phillips, C. R. A Concise History of Spain. Cambridge UP, 2010.

Other readings may be added as well and will also be part of the requirements. All readings will be available online.

Course Requirements and Grading

Oral participation is very important. Students are expected to contribute enthusiastically and courteously. The participation grade will take into account your initiative and creativity during the different activities scheduled during the course, but also any outside activity that you participate in. You must come prepared to class, which means that you are required to read the assigned chapters prior to class, and you are expected to arrive on time.

There will be two examinations: a midterm and a final exam. There will also be two concise commentaries (500 words, both due in Blackboard) of primary sources due throughout the semester. Further information will be available in Blackboard. No late papers will be accepted.

Students will write a short paper (1500 words) on religion and religions in Spain today, and do a presentation (individually or in pairs) in class. More information will be available in Blackboard.

Your final grade will be calculated as follows.

Participation	10%
Commentaries (2)	20% (10% each)
Presentation	10%
Final Paper	20%
Exams	40% (20% each)

General Course Policies

Each student is expected to be familiar with the course syllabus. Students are expected to focus their full attention on the class, arrive on time, and stay until class ends. Leaving the classroom on repeated occasions is disturbing to both your professor and your classmates and may adversely affect your participation grade. Please make use of the 10-minute breaks in between classes to fill up your water bottle, use the restroom, etc.

Students are expected to listen and respect other points of view. Phone calls, social media, email, or Internet browsing at any time during class are not acceptable during class except for specific class-related activity expressly approved by your instructor. You are responsible for any and all course material covered in class, announcements, and/or handouts if you are not present for any reason. Students will be held responsible to be up to date by attending to class regularly and checking both email and the Blackboard site of the course frequently (monitor your email and Blackboard announcements at least once every 24 hours).

Communicating with instructor: Please allow at least 48 hours for your instructor to respond to your emails. The weekend is not included in this timeframe. If you have an urgent request or question for your professor, be sure to send it during the week.

Attendance and Punctuality

Attendance is mandatory at all classes. As we understand that you might fall ill or be unable to come to class (e.g. due to a religious holiday, a flight delay, a family wedding/reunion, a graduation, a job interview, etc.) at some point during the semester, you are allowed up to 4 absences. You will be responsible for the material covered and any work missed. You will not need to justify your absences (up to 4) in any way unless you miss an exam, a presentation, a quiz, etc. In this case, you must present a doctor's note (signed, stamped, and dated) to be able to reschedule the exam, etc. It will still count as an absence, but you will be allowed to retake the exam, etc. We don't encourage you to use all 4 days unless you really need them as your participation grade may suffer if you are not in class. If used unwisely and you get sick late in the semester, the following penalties will apply:

- On your 5th absence, 1 point will be taken off of your final Spanish grade.
- On your 6th absence, 3 points will be taken off of your final Spanish grade.
- On your 7th absence, you will fail the course.

For classes that meet once a week, each absence counts as two. For classes that meet daily, the penalties outlined above apply if you go over 6 absences (7th absence=5th absence above). Exams missed due to an excused absence must be made up within a week of returning to classes. Talk to your professor immediately after your return.

Academic Honesty

Academic integrity is a guiding principle for all academic activity at Pablo de Olavide University. Cheating on exams and plagiarism (which includes copying from the Internet) are clear violations of academic honesty. A student is guilty of plagiarism when he or she presents another person's intellectual property as his or her own. The penalty for plagiarism and cheating is a failing grade for the assignment/exam and a failing grade for the course. The International Center may also report this to your home university. Avoid plagiarism by citing sources properly, using footnotes and a bibliography, and not cutting and pasting information from various websites when writing assignments.

Learning Accommodations

If you require special accommodations or have any other medical condition you deem may affect your class performance, you must stop by the International Center to speak to the Faculty Coordinator to either turn in your documentation or to confirm that our office has received it. The deadline is Feb. 6th. The coordinator will explain the options available to you.

Behavior Policy

Students are expected to always show integrity and act in a professional and respectful manner. A student's attitude in class may influence his/her participation grade. The professor has a right to ask a student to leave the classroom if the student is unruly or appears intoxicated. If a student is asked to leave the classroom, that day will count as an absence regardless of how long the student has been in class.
